Congratulations, Members! On February 6 in Washington D.C., San Francisco Bay Area was named the NAIOP 2018 Chapter of the Year, recognizing the success of our local association during our 40th anniversary year. This coveted national award evaluates Chapter accomplishments in the areas of education, government affairs, membership growth, communication, and organizational management.

Thank you to our dedicated volunteer leaders and members who made 2017 truly a banner year for the Chapter. Here are some of

Your NAIOP Legislative Action Committee Goes to the Capital

During the NAIOP Chapter Leadership and Legislative Retreat, representatives from your Chapter met with the offices of Congressman DeSaulnier, Democratic Leader Nancy Pelosi, and Senators Kamala Harris and Dianne Feinstein on Capital Hill to advocate for important issues impacting the Commercial Real Estate community. Topics discussed included infrastructure and transportation, capital and credit availability, and the environment and energy efficiency. LEARN MORE

NAIOP Diversity Initiative hosts successful first roundtable

On February 8th, NAIOP SFBA launched its new Diversity Initiative with a roundtable discussion focused on identifying key issues surrounding gender diversity in Commercial Real Estate, and the ways that NAIOP can potentially lend support to our individual and business members. Over 65 industry professionals were in attendance and engaged in breakout discussions with a NAIOP leader at each table. Participants shared a number of valuable ideas that will be incorporated into plans for future programming. Details and additional opportunities to participate will be shared as they become available in the coming months.
